

Man sentenced to 10 years for child molestation

A Geneva County judge sentenced a 33-year-old man to serve 10 years in prison for the molestation of two girls, including one under the age of 12.

Assistant Geneva County District Attorney Bill Filmore said Circuit Court Judge P.B. McLauchlin sentenced Stacy Strickland. Filmore said Strickland, of Black, pleaded guilty earlier this week to felony sex abuse of a child under the age of 12 and felony first-degree sex abuse. He said Strickland received a 10-year sentence for each of the two charges, which were to be served concurrently with each other.

Filmore said Strickland would serve the entire 10 year sentence for one of the charges because of the victim was under the age of 12.
