

Man sentenced to 25 years for drug charges

A Geneva County judge sentenced a 44-year-old man to serve more than two decades behind bars Wednesday for distribution of a controlled substance.

Circuit Court Judge Charles Fleming Jr. sentenced Sylvester Sikes Jr. of Geneva to serve 25 years in prison.

Geneva County District Attorney Kirke Adams said Sikes was arrested as part of "Operation Who's Next," an undercover Geneva County Sheriff's drug investigation. Sikes was arrested Nov. 30, 2007, and convicted on June 12.
