

Man gets 15 years for punching daughter

A Geneva County judge sentenced a Samson man to 15 years in prison Tuesday for punching his daughter in the face.

Cade

According to a statement from Chief Assistant District Attorney

Bill Filmore, Johnny Jerome Cade, 35, received the prison sentence after he'd pleaded guilty to punching his 14-year-old daughter and pulling her hair. Cade pleaded guilty in October to felony child abuse.

The statement said Cade pleaded guilty to breaking two of his daughter's teeth during the assault. Cade's request for probation was denied by the court.